1. On 23-24 May 2013, the XIII-th edition of symposium "Road and Environment" was held in Timisoara, organized by the Banat Branch together with the Romanian Academy - Timisoara Branch and the Faculty of Civil Engineering Timisoara. The event was attended by 83 well-known scientists, academics, professionals and managers across the country and from abroad.

The conference themes were:

1. Administration and management of land communication ways
2. Environment in the context of sustainable development
3. Advanced materials and technologies

The conclusions were that the main directions of future research refers to the implementation of efficient technologies for the rehabilitation of roads and bridges, applying the concept of sustainable development in the conditions of our country, proper systematization of road intersections, upgrading protection activities of the environment and improving monitoring activities of the traffic.

2. On 4-5 July 2013, the VI-th edition of the scientific symposium C.A.R. Road research and administration was held in Bucharest, organized by Bucharest Branch together with the Technical University of Civil Engineering in Bucharest, The Faculty of Railways, Roads and Bridges and the Romanian National Company of Highways and National Roads.

The symposium sections were:

1. Research in the road field, with the following themes:
  - Laboratory and field investigation of the quality of road materials
  - Researches in the field of transportation infrastructure
  - New technologies used in the field of roads
  - Assessment and certification in the field of roads
  - Monitoring the operation behavior of roads
  - Administration and management of road works
2. Traffic safety, with the following themes:
  - Policies to increase traffic safety on the road network
  - Traffic safety in the urban area
  - Technical solutions to increase traffic safety, applied in road projects
  - Interdisciplinary collaborations regarding traffic safety.

The purpose of the symposium was to organize debates that make the connection between research themes, in-field and laboratory road material quality investigation methods, traffic safety issues and management of the activity in the infrastructure of road transportation based on strategies and efficient budget allocations.
